2021 DRDP Alignment
Infant, Toddler, & Preschool

Dear Teachers and Providers,

Individual authentic child assessment tools such as the Desired Results Developmental Profile (DRDP) are essential for a teacher or provider to effectively plan and facilitate learning for children. Just as important are the materials and resources utilized to engage children in learning.

Our Kaplan team is dedicated in helping teachers and providers through the assessment, planning and learning process. We therefore offer this tool as a resource to all Infant, Toddler, and Preschool teachers and providers, along with program leaders, to assist not only with the DRDP process but with planning and guiding children's learning.

As you work with this tool you will find materials and resources specifically selected for the DRDP domains, as listed within the tool's table of contents, along with materials and resources that will support staff through the assessment process.

We hope that you find this tool to be helpful in supporting your efforts to successfully complete your DRDPs and in planning effective activities and experiences that will promote learning in the children you serve.

As you continue to work with children and their families, please do not hesitate to contact your Kaplan Early Learning Company Representative for any further additional support.

Visual and Performing Arts

DRDP Definition: This area focuses on awareness and engagement in four areas of artistic expression. The knowledge or skill areas in this domain include visual art, music, drama, and dance.

The materials and resources to support children's development in this area include but are not limited to:

Visual Art

Any two or three- dimensional art material and/or resource:

- Brushes, Crayons, & Markers - Brushes, crayons, and markers are important materials to have in any art center. Remember that large easy-grip paint brushes are easier for younger children to grasp and use.
- Chalk Materials - Take art activities outside with fun chalk materials or use chalk on chalkboards indoors. Children will love using sidewalk chalk and paint to create colorful works of art.
- Clay, Dough, & Modeling Materials - Children will be engaged when using their hands to make creative statues and models with dough and modeling clay. Be sure to facilitate their creativity with rollers, cutters, and texture kits.
- Collage & Craft Materials - Offer a variety of art supplies for any collage or craft projects, including craft sticks, feathers, pipe cleaners, yarn, glitter, stencils, pom-poms, wiggly eyes, felt sheets, art kits, and more.
- Glue, Tape, & Adhesives - Help children keep their project together with tape, glue, and other adhesives. You can also reduce the chance of a mess occurring by using washable glue or easy-to-use glue sticks.
- Paint & Paint Materials - Stock your art center with a variety of paints, including tempera paint, finger paint, glitter paint, and watercolor paint among others. Sponges, paint pots, and paint markers are also necessary paint supplies for art centers.
- Paper & Scissors - Stimulate children's senses by giving them the chance to use paper in different textures, colors, and sizes. Also make sure the scissors available in your art center are safety scissors that will only cut paper.

- Stampers & Stamp Pads - Stampers and stamp pads are a quick and easy way to create art projects for kids. A variety of stampers, including emotions, family, animals, letters, and numbers stampers, help make stamp projects fun and versatile.

Music and Dance

Any material/resource that will assist children in expressing and creating by making musical sounds, with increasing intentionality and complexity AND responding, expressing, and creating through movement in dance

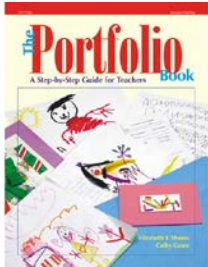

- Audio Visual Tools - Your music and movement learning center should have a variety of audio visual tools, such as a listening center with themed headphones, CD player, karaoke machine, or audio station. These items will help you engage kids in music and dance. You could also use audio visual tools to incorporate music into other classroom activities, including transition times and when kids clean up.
- Bilingual/Spanish Materials - Music is the perfect way to introduce children to other languages and cultures. Whether it's a bilingual CD or a musical instrument that originated in another country, bilingual and Spanish materials will help encourage cultural awareness and inclusion in your classroom.
- CDs for Children - Whether you're looking for classical music or popular children's songs, a wide variety of music CDs are available for your music and movement center. Your classroom music collection should be age appropriate and should include songs that encourage children to dance and sing along.
- Movement & Rhythm Props - Movement and rhythm props, such as scarves or bean bags, are a great addition to your music and movement center. Scarves and other props encourage kids to get moving, work together, and creatively express themselves as they play and listen to music.

Drama

Any material/resource that will assist children in the engagement, skill development and creative expression in drama:

- Carpentry - A child-size workbench and basic play carpenter tools are needed for this part of your dramatic play center. Be sure to emphasize safety by providing an apron and goggles for each child who plays in the carpentry area.
- Dolls and Doll Play Accessories - Multicultural dolls are a great addition to the dramatic play area. Other doll props should include doll clothes, doll strollers, doll cots, and doll inclusion equipment.
- Dress-Up Clothes - Children can dress up and learn about a variety of careers, costumes, and cultural customs. Correlate the dress-up clothes available in the dramatic play center with what children are learning about in class.
- Housekeeping Play - Housekeeping play helps children practice being an adult and encourages them to clean up after themselves. You should include a variety of cleaning and housekeeping items, such as a vacuum, broom, mop, and ironing board, in your dramatic play center.
- Kitchenware and Cooking Play - Provide cooking utensils, table place settings, and a variety of other kitchenware items to go with your dramatic play center's play kitchen set. Children can socialize, practice their math skills, and increase their motor skills as they pretend to cook for each other or have a small pretend dinner party.
- Pretend Food - Pretend food can also teach children about nutrition and what children in other countries may eat. Whether they open up a pretend pizza and sandwich shop or pack a pretend picnic, children will love role playing with pretend food.
- Puppets and Accessories - Offer a variety of puppets - pets, wild animals, families, sea life animals, dinosaurs, and more - to help children create wonderful stories with their imagination and perform puppet shows for the rest of the class. Try to include a puppet theatre in your dramatic play center to help make puppet shows even more fun and exciting for kids.
- Shopping Play - Children can role play realistic shopping experiences with shopping play props and materials. Handbags, wallets, shopping carts, a play cash register, play money, and a variety of supermarket items will help make this part of your dramatic play center a hit with the kids!

Powerful Interactions

A teacher interacts with the children all day long. It's how the warm and responsive relationships in which young children learn best are built. But interactions in which teachers intentionally promote learning can be few and far between. A "Powerful Interaction" may last only a few minutes, but in that time the teacher tunes out any distractions, tunes into the child, and then presents a learning experience tailored to that child at that moment. This book will guide you through three steps of a Powerful Interaction (Be Present, Connect, Extend Learning) with self-guided lessons. By Amy Laura Dombro. Paperback, 160 pages

Planning For Play

2021 ECE pg 355

Play is learning! But play in the early years is endangered by the emphasis on push-down academics, mounting parental expectations, and pressures on early childhood teachers to prepare young children for the rigors of kindergarten and beyond. With all of that, gains made by play experiences, including readiness skills and social-emotional development, have fallen away. Young children learn best through play. This book helps educators understand the different types of play and the rich opportunities offered through carefully planned time and environments designed for valuable pre-K play experiences. Paperback. 184 pages.

Stem Play

2021 ECE pg 19

Most early childhood teachers are using learning centers in the classroom, but do not approach them in ways that fully support a variety of learning opportunities. This book approaches learning centers through the STEM lens, and shares how themes can be integrated into centers to promote creativity and higher-level thinking. "STEM Play" provides varied activities for the most common centers: art, blocks, dramatic play, literacy, math, science, music and movement. Full of beautiful, full-color photos that show the activities in real early childhood classrooms, teachers can easily use the book's ideas immediately in their curriculum. Also includes a "How To" section for teachers who wish to expand on the STEM focus and use themed activities in their learning centers. Paperback. 174 pages.

2021 ECE pg 356

Connecting with dual language learners (DLLs) is a growing reality among early childhood educators, who need to learn practical, proven strategies to reach these students. Grounded in research and strengthened by the author's personal experience as a student learning English, Connecting Right from the Start helps teachers understand the culturally and linguistically diverse children in their classroom, as well as those with disabilities. Some of the skills teachers will learn: ways to make DLLs feel more comfortable in the classroom, the stages of second-language acquisition, ways to challenge DLLs without overwhelming them, and ways to involve families in school activities.

Don't Look Away:
Embracing Anti-Bias
Classrooms

2021 ECE pg 356

Every day, 250 children are suspended from school. Many are children of color, deprived of opportunities to experience learning at the same rate and quality as white children. Many families don't feel heard or respected in their child's schools. Don't Look Away: Embracing Anti-Bias Classrooms leads early childhood professionals to explore and address issues of bias, equity, low expectations, and family engagement to ensure culturally responsive experiences. Importantly, this book will challenge you to consider your perceptions and thought processes: identify your own unconscious biases-we- all have them, recognize and minimize bias in the classroom, school, and community, connect with children and their families, and help close the opportunity gap for children from marginalized communities. This book offers strategies, tools, and information to help you create a culturally responsive and equitable learning environment. Paperback. 144 pages.
